Warrenbri Stud to offer Romeo blood at Dalby

By PENELOPE ARTHUR

THE Mitchell-based Warrenbri Stock Horse Stud is revered in Australian campdrafting circles for its ability to produce sale toppers, superior campdraft and performance horses and super sires like the great Warrenbri Romeo.

Founded in the early 1970s, the stud is owned and operated by Simon and Bridget Knight, who plan to offer additional Romeo bloodlines at the 2011 Dalby Stock Horse Sale in December.

The Knights will present two geldings by Warrenbri Warrego, a dun stallion by Warrenbri Romeo and out of Krui Charade, a Roulette mare.

"Warrego is a very athletic stallion with exceptional temperament," Mr Knight said.

"The whole family can ride him and he has competed with success at Paradise Lagoons, Chinchilla and other local drafts."

The first son of Warrego to be offered at Dalby will be Warrenbri Prophet, a creamy, grey coloured 2008 gelding out of the Blue Moon Mystic mare, Warrenbri Georgina.

"Warrenbri Georgina is proving to be one of our best outside-sired mares," Mr Knight said.

"She is the dam of Madonna Campbell's Warrenbri Ellie and Warrenbri Blue Moon, who is showing tremendous potential in her first campdrafts this year at Charleville and Chinchilla.

Warrenbri Prophet has been started by NSW horse handler Mat Oakley, Tamworth." Also on offer by Warrego will be Warrenbri Danny, an early 2009 brown gelding out of Warrenbri Anna, which was by the Does Freckles Oak stallion, Warrenbri Wrangler.

"He has an excellent temperament and has also been started by Mat Oakley," Mr Knight said.

Also catalogued to take the ring at Dalby will be two sons of Warrenbri

Roman Oak, sire of Warrenbri Hope, who sold at Magic Millions in 2009 to raise $48,000 for the Cancer Council.

The Roman Oak offering will include Warrenbri Irish, a 2007 gelding out of the same dam as US-exported Warrenbri Cooper, Warrenbri My Romane.

Mr Knight described Irish as "a smart and powerful" gelding.

"For experienced and competitive riders, this bold and stylish gelding is very impressive," he said.

"He was also started by Mat Oakley, as was Warrenbri Hadley, our final horse for Dalby this year.

"Hadley is a chestnut 2008 gelding by Warrenbri Roman Oak out of Mt Hope Zorro mare Warrenbri Pamela – a very exciting cross."

Unique opportunity at Warwick
